What Was Ours:

FOREWORD

Every American student in every American highschool insists his school is the very best in the land. He is sure that nowhere else in the world are such warm friendships made, such splendid courses taught, such thrilling games played, such unique pleasure enjoyed.

Yet, even as he makes such rash statements, he knows that in hundreds of other schools, over the length and breadth of the land, other warm friendships flourish, other courses are offered, other thrilling games are won or lost, and other unique pleasures are measured.

What, then, may a yearbook staff set forth as peculiarly personal to its own student body? What, then, was ours alone?

No matter what other schools might possess, this 1951 Chieftain belongs to us alone. Its pages mirror life at Capitol Hill High School. That is a good life in a good school.

Years spent in a modern school plant; instruction acquired from a well-trained and understanding faculty; games cheered for wonderful teams; pleasures, great and small, savoured day in and day out . . . this, truly, was ours.

Dedication

This was ours — we will remember our days at Capitol Hill High School not only for the school itself, for the close friendships made, for the glory won on our gridiron, for the fun we've had, and for the lessons we've learned, but also for a person who has truly belonged to us.

After fourteen years this good friend has taken a leave of absence from this busy life at Capitol Hill of which she was an important part. She was more than a sympathetic friend, she was an able instructor, counselor, and guide — a true teacher, whose influence will be lasting.

We acknowledge the tremendous job she has done so successfully here on the Hill, and because she was ours, we, the staff of the 1951 Chieftain, with deep affection and sincere appreciation dedicate our year-book to Miss Gladys C. Fischl.

They set the pace for us

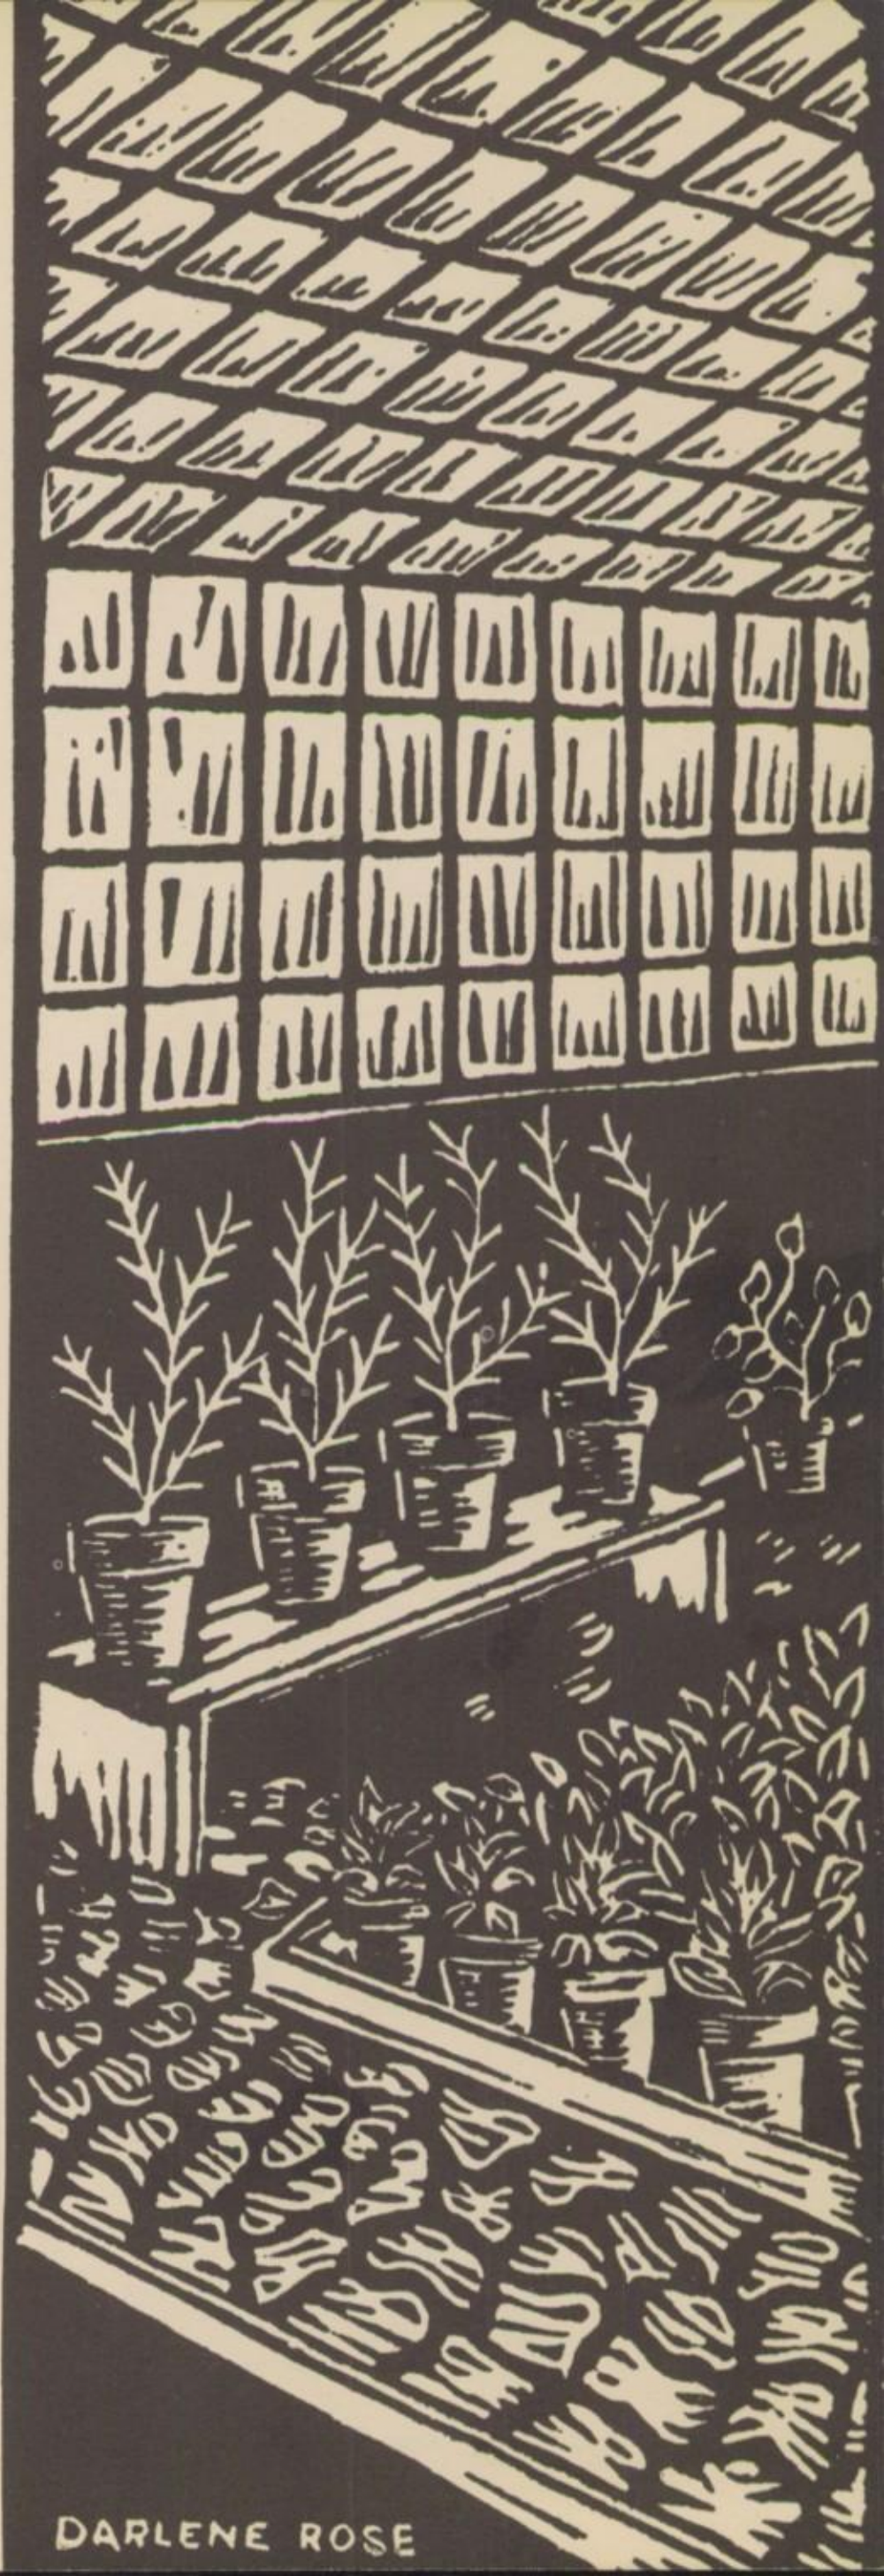

Nothing is more thrilling to the high school student than the sight of the band coming down the street in dress parade. Lips want to tremble and eyes light up as the color bearer (Dick Cook) approaches, flanked by the elegant drum major (Gerald Cox), the band queen (Donna Skinner) and two high stepping twirlers (left, Pat Wagstaff, right, Carole Waller).

DARLENE ROSE

CHHS is the heart of the Hill

. . . and from the air it presents a view of solid Americanism—the school encircled by typical American homes where warm friendship is the binding force.

. . . a stout fence encloses the grounds; it is not a barrier to shut out the world — but a symbol of the bonds which bind the student body into a unit.

Here the dignity of formal education is

It has ever been the obligation of youth to cherish those traditions in our society which have made our country unique and yet to develop the new and untried. A front view of the building in the cold sunshine of an early spring day reflects the American tendency to combine the old and the new . . .

In Front of Building

combined with joy of modern living the main building with its formal architecture and the new social center with its plate glass front. This was ours . . . this combination of the traditional and the modern as was ours also the duty to cherish the physical plant and make use of its resources to build our own futures.

The East gate reveals our plant

A gymnasium where the rafters often ring, right, and a trades building with ultra modern equipment, left, flank the back entrance which leads to our Redskin stadium and baseball field. The road leads past the greenhouse and gardens of the agriculture department. In the spring garden vegetables and spring flowers greet passers-by.

PEGGY STEVENS

School life was what we made it

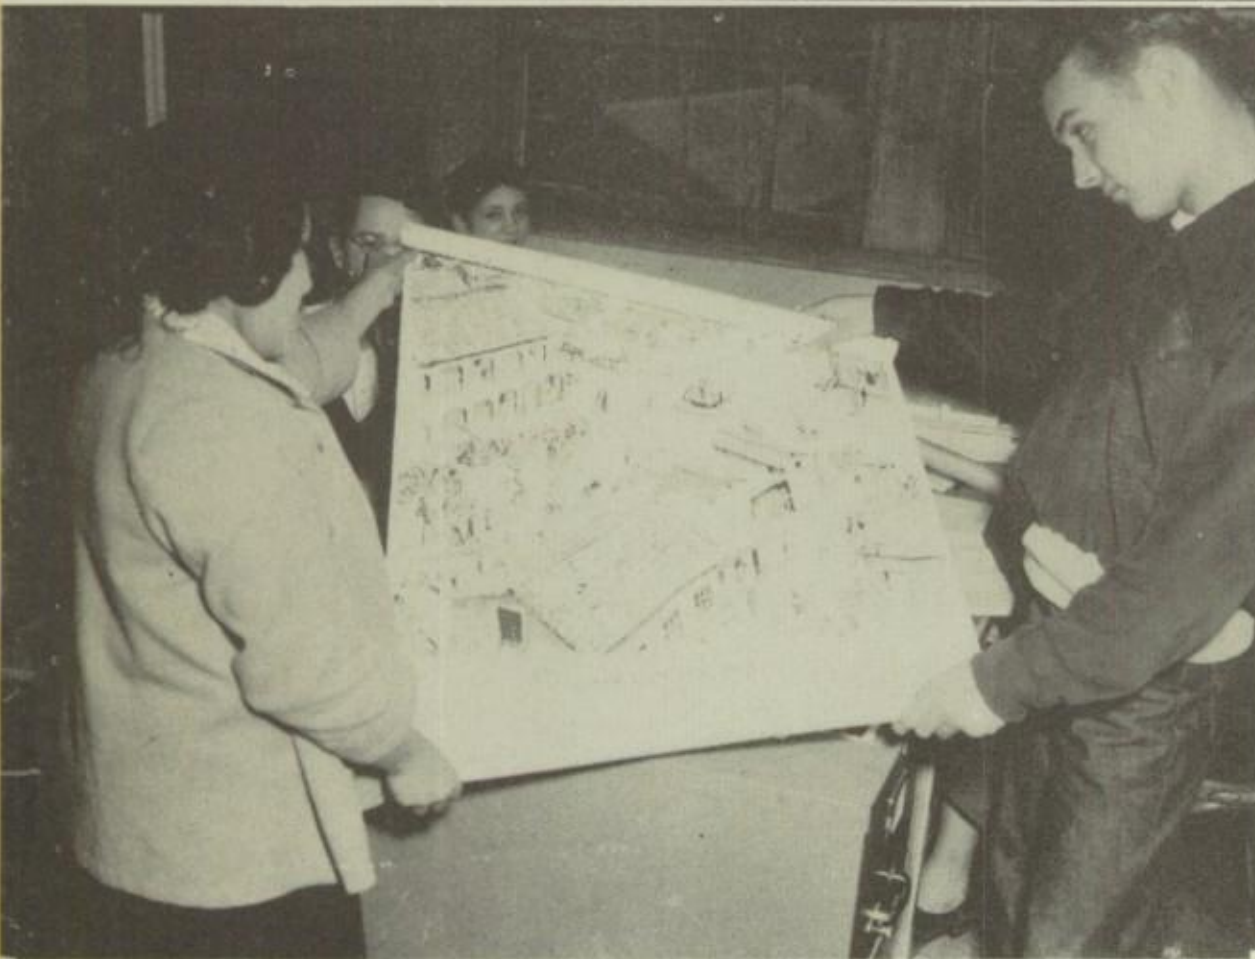

● The days of our years were filled with many things — with serious study and hilarious fun — with responsibilities and carefree play — with thoughts of the future and the tendency to let tomorrow take care of itself.

Interests were varied

as the days were long

● 5. It's a huge joke for members of the nursing class who minister to the ills of classmate, Emma Jean Tackett. Student nurse is Donnie Jo Clark. Mrs. Doris Halley is visiting Red Cross nurse. ● 6. Dixie Bolinger, below left, solves a problem in slide rule class — a favorite subject for those who like math.

● 7. "How shall I make my evening dress?" wails Delores Soldon. With smug expressions on their faces classmates Jane Green, left, and Ina Lee Cherry baste theirs up. They've solved the "how" problem. ● 8. Tastes differ; "Mine," says Maxine Morrison, "is to make myself pretty for the gentleman who will walk me home." Shirley Morrison looks on as the locker mirror provides a good dressing table.

● Pep meetings, complete with well trained leaders, are a must in the high school of today. Pep meetings must be well planned, colorful, and exciting.

● 2. Four participants in spring sports "sport" their new jackets; Berry Mashburn (track), Donald Reed (golf), Gene Land (tennis), and Melvin Parnell (baseball).

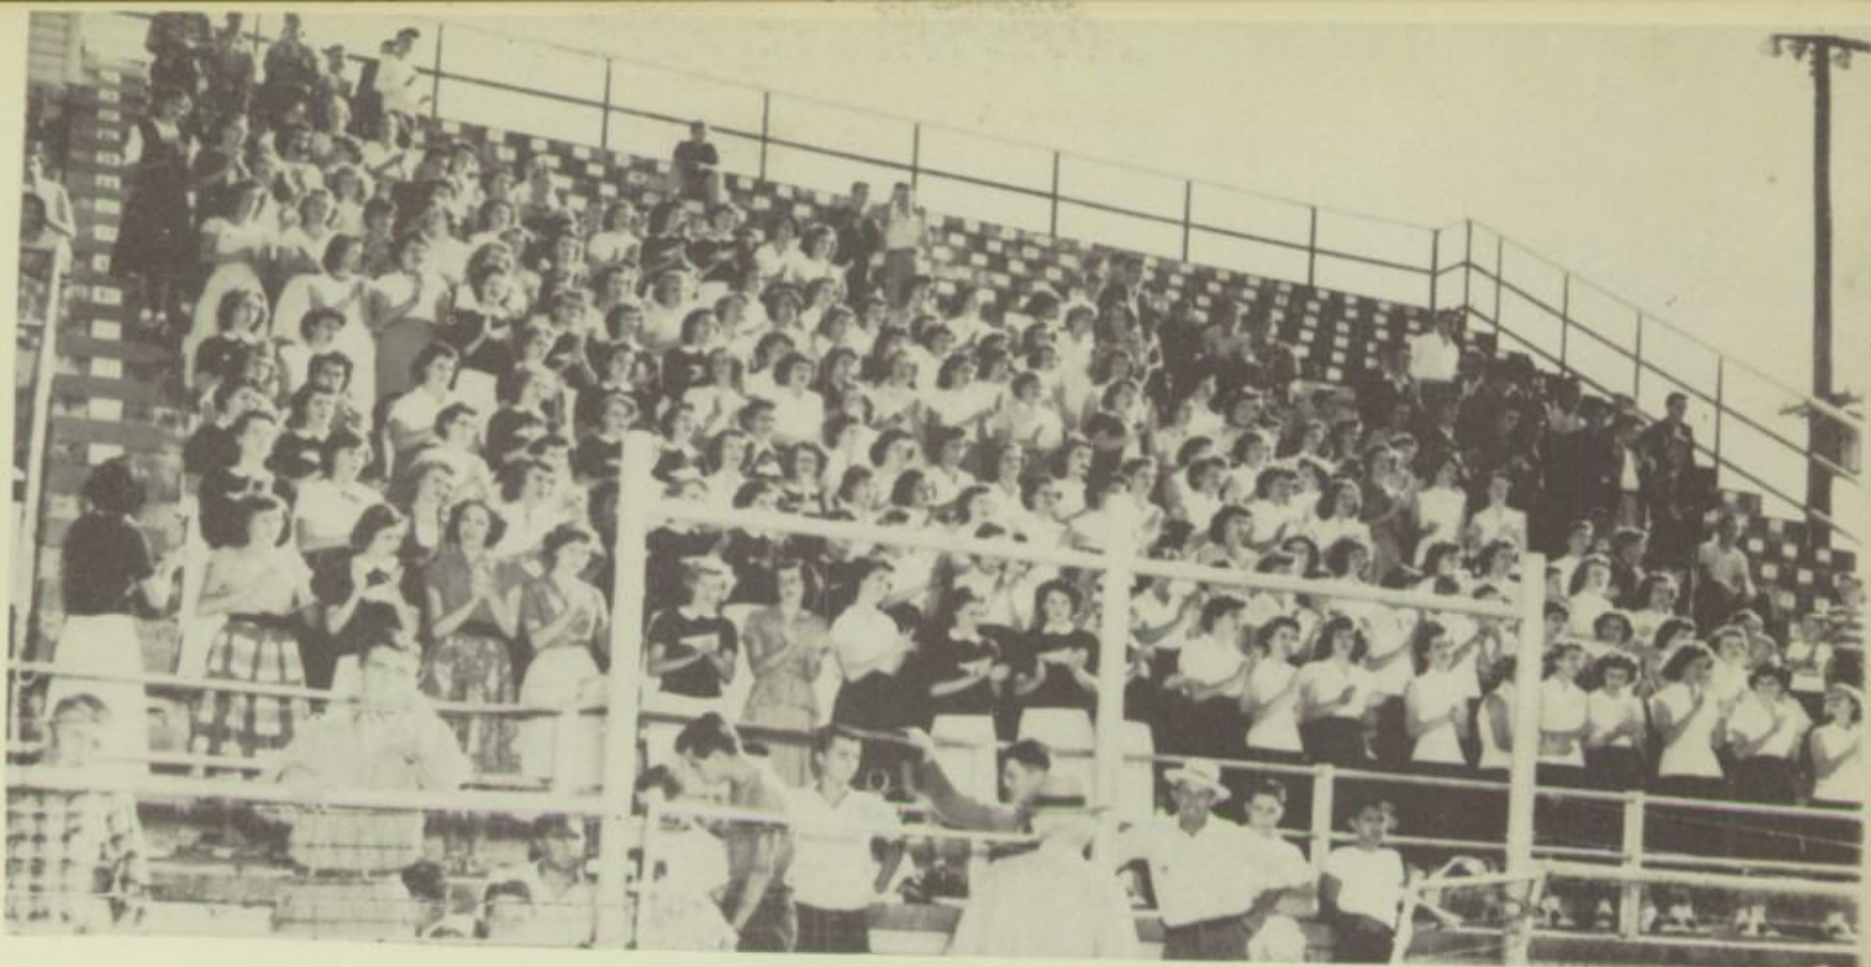

Team support ranked

high on our list

● 5. Enthusiasm was high for the Enid game and the whole school turned out for a grand pep meeting — the warm sun beat down on our heads. ● 6. Red-skin Stadium was the scene of several pep rallies. Feature of the first was an Indian Maidens' war dance in which grace and dignity were conspicuous by their absence, left to right, Erma Maples, Yonne Spalding, Pat Wagstaff, Janice McAfee, Yvonne Shadrick, Patsy Hines, and Carol Sue Davis. ● 7. When the war dance was over Coach John Mis-kovsky introduced the team in their spanking new uniforms — the white pants looking strangely white.

The Big Show made

● 5. Ronnie Van Horn, Tony Harris, and Denny Boyd, left to right, were three hopeful aspirants for places on the Capers program. They even tried out for the try-outs. ● 6. Long waits for try-outs turns, below left, led many an eager-beaver to the coke machine for a little refreshment. Barbara Schomp has hers; Ronnie Van Horn soon will; others, waiting, are Norman Duncan, Carlene Butler, Paul Herrell, Beverly Fulkerson.

● 7. A combination student-faculty committee, middle right, laid all the plans for the Capers. Seated at his desk is Mr. Alex Higdon, principal and chairman of chairmen; standing, Miss Sara Cohen, Charles Kelly, Georganna Edmiaston, Larry Wood. ● 8. Climax of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen. King Gerald Murray, having been crowned, puts the queen's robe around the shoulders of the 1951 Queen of the Capers, Larie Heldenbrand.

● There's always something cooking in the high school students' pot — a party, or a game, or maybe a convention. In the fall CHHS was hostess to the Southern Association of Student Councils and in the spring we had a big music convention.

● 1. Members of the government class, upper left, decorated a small Christmas tree and had a wonderful party. Mrs. E. T. Moore, homeroom mother, made home-made sweet rolls and beautiful little cakes. Every member of the class put some decoration on the bright little tree.

From Christmas to music

there was always something

● 5. Strong armed members of the stronger sex met the bus, upper right, and helped the delegates to the music conference with their baggage. Somebody missed the very pretty girl in the foreground. ● 6. "Why do girls have so much stuff?" pants Melvin Parnell, right, as he assists the ladies with their bags and bundles. "You never can tell what might happen at a music meetin'," answers a pretty delegate. ● 7. "What's the program" and "Where do we go from here," demand the visitors, lower right, as registration is finished and activities begin.

● Snow, a matter of indifference to judges of yearbooks, is still of great concern to us in Oklahoma. A good snow storm means a good snow fight and plenty of antics.

● 1. For the first time home study was made available to home-bound students. Bill Nelson, left, confined to his home for the school year, took advantage of this opportunity to continue his school work.

The winter's cold and

● 2. Snow or no snow, yeast still makes dough rise and rolls must be made for the pans. The class in commercial cookery prepares rolls for a noon-time luncheon, left to right, Betty Deaville, Ernest Sapp, Nadine Shultz. ● 3. Wilma Riggan and Darlene Rose, lower left, of the art department, fashion a tinsel tree for the table decorations of a special luncheon. The completed tree will truly be a "work of art." ● 4. Even music teachers enjoy a little horse play in unusual weather; Mr. Al Ossenkop, below, catches peanuts in his mouth as Shirley Essary acts as pitcher.

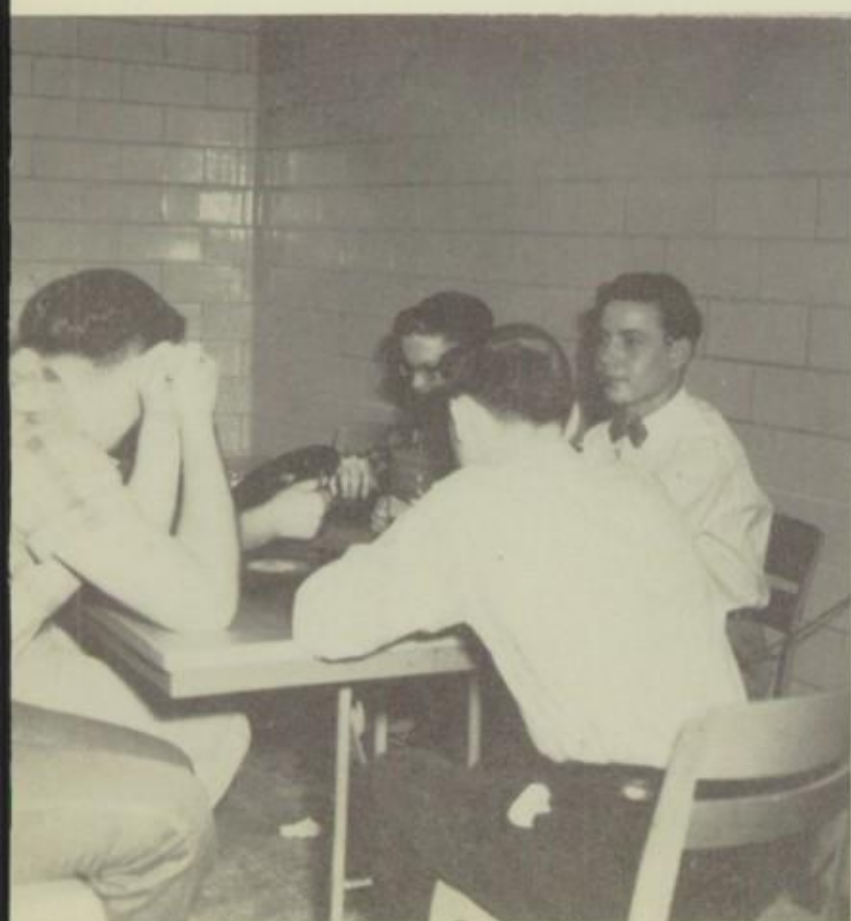

The Social Center

snows were soon forgotten

● 5. A snow storm is a rare treat and must be enjoyed to the fullest. Outside the cafeteria is the best place to dump the victim. Playful athletes gang-up on one of their number, Harlow Gers. ● 6. Day in—day out the morning bulletin must go out over the air—everybody pauses to hear what's new; right center, Lance Thompson is at the mike; left to right, Miss Sara Cohen, Frank Carpenter, Arthur Sudik. ● 7. Cosmetology, too, is new to CHHS. Getting herself all fixed up for her heavy date is Connie Jones; Charlene Wright is the operator. ● 8. Jam session in the disc jockey's sanctum, lower center. "Just how many records of My Heart Cries For You can you wear out in one season?" moans Gerald Murray at the mike. Also there, left to right, Wendell Casey, Billy Creighton, Murray Dean Smith.

Gifts and teas and

● 3. The Junior Red Cross, lower left, conducted a big campaign for funds. On the committee were, back to camera, Clarence Butler; seated, left to right, Peggy McAuliff, Glenda Frantz, Wanda Pamplin; standing, Wren Hammett and Domingo Losa. ● 4. P-TA, above, celebrated Founder's Day. Mrs. Lloyd Welch cut the cake; Mrs. O. O. Barnes, Mrs. Charles Barnard, Mrs. T. N. Morrisett, Mrs. Clancy Thomas, and Mrs. Earl Wantland looked on.

● 5. One big event of the year, upper right, was the crowning of the FFA sweetheart, Carole Cook. Harlow Gers, who did the honors, mopped his brow with great frequency. Attendants were runner-uppers Mignon Lester and Nancy Adams. Berl Hendrickson was Nancy's escort. ● 6. Members of Y-Teens spent many busy afternoons fashioning gifts for the poor. It was great fun to be doing for others: left to right, Irvana Moon, Ruby Airington, Josie Jackson, Lou Ann Johnson, Gladys Biggs, Jean Campbell.

● 7. Horizon Club, above, held a tea for their Buddy, Neil Molsbee: left to right, John Marbury, Loretta Schultz, Neva Benson, Ila Engle, Price Pooler, and Neil. ● 8. Ki Yis, below right, had a Sadie Hawkins party that will long be remembered by all who attended. Georganna Edmiaston, president, commandeered all the sleeveless dresses she could find—the fit was not important. This group of those who were present includes, seated, Kathryn Jackson and Dick Woods; standing, James Kelm, Wren Hammett, Georganna, and Dillard Hammett.

● Talents differ, but there never was a time when special skills were more important. Few schools offer the opportunity that was ours to take advantage of in this department.

● 1. Mr. Hawkins had a wonderful class in body repair. Star pupil, Bill Anderson, left, at work on a car that had been badly battered in a wreck. The results were entirely satisfactory.

Skillful fingers worked

● 2. One of the most popular of our teachers is Mr. Kelly Mudd. Teachers and students brought furniture to be repaired and upholstered until there was little room to move around. Eddie Knight, left center, is at work on one such job. ● 3. Posters and signs have taken on a commercial look as a result of the work of Mr. Bart Ward and his commercial art class, lower left. The Chieftain campaign banner was a knock-out. ● 4. Mr. Howard Waller's biology class, below, studied the functions of the heart with the aid of a plaster model. Students are Jimmy Minx, Bob West, Elsie Kuklenski.

● The community looks to the school for leadership. The young American of today knows that experience in the ways of society and knowledge of law will serve him in good stead. So we endeavored to prepare ourselves for the role we must assume.

● Junior Rotarians, left, for the school year were selected on a basis of citizenship and leadership. Since they represented the school they had to be students of whom we were proud. Chosen as Junior Rotarians for this year were Larry Wood, Bertram Shelby, Tony Briseno, Roger Wright, Bobby Hamm.

● Because the Student Council, below, is a large body, it was decided to establish an executive committee to meet daily, under the direction of Mr. O. R. Williamson, and study the government of our nation, our state, and our city. In this way they would be better able to recommend procedures to the entire Council which would, in turn, make suggestions to the administration.

J. CHESTER SWANSON
superintendent of schools

Excellent leadership for our school system

Dr. J. Chester Swanson, superintendent of the Oklahoma City school system, is well acquainted with the universities of the United States. He holds an A.B. degree from the University of Virginia; an A.M. degree from Duke University; and a P.H.D. degree from Duke. In addition he has attended summer schools at the University of Pittsburgh, John Hopkins, the University of Michigan, and Columbia University. This broad scholastic training is reflected in Dr. Swanson's attitude toward all branches of training, and, in his efforts to give our schools a well rounded program.

Dr. Swanson's teaching career is as broad as his educational background. He has taught in Virginia, in North Carolina, in California, and even in the Panama Canal Zone. From 1941 to 1943 he was educational consultant to the United States Office of Education. Before coming to Oklahoma City, Dr. Swanson was assistant superintendent of schools in San Diego, California.

In July, 1950, Dr. Swanson became superintendent of the Oklahoma City schools. He is vitally interested in the educational future of our city.

ALEX HIGDON
principal of Capitol Hill High School

A principal who loves the land

Mr. Higdon came to Capitol Hill Senior High February 1, 1950, as principal. He had served as assistant principal of Capitol Hill Junior High in 1944. His long experience on the Hill has made him familiar with our problems. He is consecrated to the growth of CHHS.

"Ladies to the center, four hands round," and the Square Dancers show their stuff. This newly formed club attracted many enthusiastic students. Once organized, the peppy bunch of kids found its place among the other school organizations. Meetings were held weekly and fun was had by all. Clockwise, the boys are Jerry Nugent, Dean Tesney, Roy Borthick and Clarence Butler; girls include Delores Boyington, Mildred Harris, La Wanda Hite, and Loriee Bagley. Clarence has made a name for himself not only as a radio MC but as a square dance caller in the city.

make fun and frolic for all

One of the most active service clubs in school is the Y-Teen organization. Among their projects was the making of Christmas favors for the old folks' home, Easter toys for a local orphanage, presenting Bible readings in assembly, and sponsoring the school bookroom, an indispensable and frequently patronized shop. The white sweater and

Sponsor of the Art club is Miss Dorothy Mayes. The only art teacher in school, she has worked diligently on all projects and her help has been greatly appreciated by all.

In their second year as a CHHS club, the Future Draftsmen have become an active organization. Much of their time is spent in drawing up house plans. Members of this group are, left to right, row 1, Patsy Deeds, James Hicks, Merlene Reed, Elbert Estell, Janet Johnson; row 2, James Veitch, Gerald Austin, Gail Amburn; row 3, Don Bowers, Billy Reed, Dean Crawford; row 4, Bobby Danner, Harold Hardy, Richard Titsworth, Donald Flowers, Jerry Ashbrener.

and to the future

Junior Alumni Association's chief object is to uphold school traditions and to plan the annual Alumni Day, held each year just before Easter. The CHHS Alumni Association is the largest in the world, partly due to the determination of the Junior Alumni chapter. The club's membership is made up of students whose parents attended Capitol Hill High School. Members are, left to right, row 1, Bob Parmeter, Darlene Teague, Patsy Hines, Rosemary Avery, Carolyn Cantwell, Beverly McArthur, Ann Claymore; row 2, Barbara Sue Ward, Beverly Baxley, Jeanette Avery, La Dean Barnhill, Wanda Brandt, Zulema Stone, Katy Desper; row 3, Russell Amburn, Myrna McCollum, Harold Reed, Gerald Penny, Joyce Nan Brown, Shirley Mullenix, Marilyn Tripp, Nancy Zenor, J. C. McNutt; row 4, Warren Pettijohn, La Roy Johnson, Paul Pettijohn, Jack Welch, Conrad Stigler, Alla Lou Ward, Kathryn Jackson, Ronnie Van Horn, Nialta Cheatwood, Eldon Howard, Archie Smith.

Officers of Junior Alumni did an outstanding piece of work in the co-ordinating of club activities. Their distinctive sweaters are well known in the halls of CHHS. Showing their best smiles for the cameraman are Yonne Spalding, president; Beverly Crew, first vice-president; Gail Amburn, second vice-president; Alta Ruth Beals, secretary; Lou Ann Johnson, treasurer; Marjorie Jo Johnson, parliamentarian.

Loyalty to tradition

Tinkering with radio sets is also included in an operator's job.

Members of the FFA do their part for CHHS by planting shrubs, beautifying the grounds, and providing flowers and plants for school affairs. The boys also serve the community. During Christmas the FFA organization took charge and carried out plans for all the decorations in the business district of Capitol Hill; left to right, row 1, Jerry Tweed, Kenneth Snider, Bill Green, Glenn Booth, Lester Sloan; row 2, Gerald Jack-

farming or debating

Only boys who are outstanding in leadership and school activities are invited to join the Key Club. These boys are the junior members of the Capitol Hill Kiwanis Club. During the year five Junior Rotarians were chosen from this group; left to right, row 1, Carroll Gregg, Kenny Hughes, Edwin Gates, Dick Akers, J. B. East, Deryl Finney, Johnny Soergel, James Smith, Mr.

A Buddy was chosen by the Horizon Club for the first time in its history. Tall, handsome Neil Molsbee was accorded the honor of being first to wear the blue jacket presented to the Horizon Buddy at a coronation-tea held in his honor. With Miss Juanita Bittle, spon-

Service to others

Under the capable leadership of Domingo Losa, the Junior Red Cross has enjoyed a successful year. Yea, Redskins, that's our cry

CHHS has four active, alert pep clubs that not only assume responsibility for all pep activities and game rallies, but who provide plenty of social activity. Rivalry is keen, but friendly, and representatives of the four groups meet weekly in a body known as the pep council. Sponsor of this group is Sara Cohen, activities director. One of the biggest jobs of the year for the pep council is the planning and execution of the big all-school Christmas dance, known as the KRKC Dance. Committee members leave no step undone to make the dance an affair to be long remembered.

Everybody loves an athlete

CHHS's most outstanding representatives in the field of boxing are, left to right, Joe Goode, Leon Hollingshead, J. C. McNutt, and Farron Hottle. Joe, 118 pounder, won the district title, and reached the semi-finals in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Even the manipulator of the new score board is engrossed in the play on the field. Coach Vaughn, who sits next to him, on the left, is all eyes — can the team score? They did, and the tension was relaxed.

Girls' teams enjoyed a season

Capitol Hill boasts of fine athletic ability in girls' sports as well as in boys'. Outstanding examples of individual expertness, team work, and physical prowess are evident in the girls' teams. Activities in the field of feminine sports include volley ball, soft ball, field ball, tennis, badminton, swimming, bowling, and golf.

Proving their championship calibre in field ball and volley ball, the girls won top spot in city competition. They showed excellent ability in tennis and golf, both in state and city tournaments. Four returning golfers from last year, Betty Leverich, Frankie Fitzgerald, Carol Sue Davis, and Marie Engle, represented CHHS at the golf meet at Norman, and went on to play at the state and city meets in Oklahoma City. The tennis team is composed of three sophomores, Pauline Winters, Margaret Doussett, Shirley Henning; one junior, Oletha Wilbanks; and two seniors, Norma Gill and Elizabeth Baze.

Track comes into its own

The cinder team for 1951 has both quality and quantity. Ten lettermen returned to lead coach Vaughn's classy aggregation. J. W. Mashburn is a record holder in the 440 relay with a time of 49.5 seconds, and Dick Woods won the Junior Olympic title with a time of 20.2 in the half mile event. Donald Ladd, left, won first place in the state cross country meet held at O. U. December 1.

All sportsmen are proud of the clown band which is regarded as the most clever stunt ever presented by an Oklahoma City band at a sports event. Here members of the band have just "blown up" the enemy.

BASEBALL (Cont'd)

Heading up the list of chunkers this season, will be three seniors and one sophomore. Wylie Sparks, one of the seniors, and already a two year letterman, so far this season has experienced a streak of wildness that forced him to depart from the first two games he started, in favor of another senior, Robert Turner. So far Turner has served as the Redskins' fireman, working very effectively in relief.

The other senior is Jack Williams, a fast balling left-hander who has eliminated some of the wildness that bothered him last year, when he split duties between the mound and left field. The sophomore is small, but effective, Tommy Wade, who racked up a good season last summer with Bill Mosiers Tires, in the American Legion bracket.

GOLF

Capitol Hill's golf team, above, composed of Harlow Gers, Jr., Ab Justice, Eddie Lookabaugh, Orville Moody, Earldean Edwards, Donald Reed, and Donald Robbins, followed in the footsteps of outstanding teams before them as they remained undefeated.

At the Fort Worth Invitational, golfer Ab Justice was the medalist and Harlow Gers, Jr., took second in the driving contest. The Redskin linksmen are leading the City Round Robin, having won 5 and lost none.

TENNIS

Tennis is becoming increasingly popular as a minor sport at CHHS. Under the leadership of Earl Stewart (inset) a number of players have developed. Last year the team made a clean sweep of the city series.

When Don Van Pool, the Redskins' new baseball coach, turned the first page on the 1951 edition of the diamond crew, he was pleased to find a larger than usual crop of talent.

To back up the twelve returning lettermen there are about seven or eight newcomers working for their first baseball monograms.

Any difficulties the Skins have suffered thus far this season can be largely credited to the pitching staff, for the simple reason that it usually takes pitchers longer to round into shape than other members of the team.

When the mound crew hits its peak, the hillmen can boast of one of the best in the mid-state conference.

SUMMARY

Capitol Hill's roundballers, many of them football players whose season lasted a month late, didn't get started until December 9.

The seasonal record was 11 won, 11 lost. It was the first time since Coach C. B. Speegle started coaching the Redskins that the team has lost more than seven games in a season.

The regular season opened with a win over Catholic High; the score was 31 to 29. The next victim was Walters, 34-31. Next the Redskins defeated Norman 29-34. The Hillmen tasted defeat for the first time in the new season as they were dealt a 45 to 37 beating by the Shawnee Wolves who went on to win the Class A Championship.

El Reno was defeated in a thriller 42-37 to give the local fans a lift.

Oscar Shuler, 'Skin court captain, paced the score happy Hillmen with 20 points as the Enid Plainsmen were downed 52-29. The season ended on a melancholy note as both Central and Northeast took the measure of the team. Shuler was named to one of the forward positions on the all-city team; J. W. Mashburn was our leading scorer; sophomore Bobby Burr made the second all-city team.

SUMMARY (Cont'd)

Bill Green (42) intercepts a pass on the Capitol Hill goal and runs the ball back to the nine as Muskogee wins the state championship 19-13.

A frenzied mob went wild with excitement as Roy Randall set the ball up with an 85 yd. run, and Oscar Shuler went over for a touchdown, with less than 20 seconds left, to win the semi-final contest from Clinton, 26-19.

The mighty Capitol Hill juggernaut trampled all city competition and went on to take the district title, but one sunny day in December, the Redskins played their hearts out at Skelly Field, Tulsa, only to have Muskogee come through with a 19-12 win to take the coveted State title.

SUMMARY

Capitol Hill's defending state football champs, picked as the state's No. 2 team, opened the '51 grid season by defeating Seminole 12-6. The Redskins moved forward to stop Borger, Texas, 20-0 and traveled 700 miles in vain as Port Arthur, Texas, handed them their first defeat in fourteen starts.

The team rebounded in a hurry. Classen fell 18-0 and the following week Shawnee was cut down before 7,000 fans with a score of 28-14. Enid was annihilated 55-0 and the next week-end Northeast was stomped 38-6.

In succeeding weeks Central was defeated 59-0, giving the Redskins their third straight City Championship and their second Mid-State title; Norman was stopped 38-6 as fans shivered in 18° weather at Owen Field; and Durant was smothered 32-13 in the quarter finals.

Horizon Buddy and Television Queen are two new honors at CHHS this year. Neil Molsbee, upper left circle, was unanimously chosen for the first Horizon Buddy and Bea Holland, lower circle, beautiful blond, won the TV contest and turned in a fine performance.

Gail Bailey was elected DeMolay Sweetheart and Bob East Rainbow Beau. Gail, center of page, exhibits her new jacket for Bob to examine and admire.

Frank Moore, right, new student council president, is the first prexy selected under the new election system which is patterned after that of our state government.

You can't have a Chieftain without a yearbook assembly—it's just one of those things. Georganna Edmiaston, left, and Carroll Gregg select records to be used. Wanda Rogers is at the telephone.

There is no greater satisfaction, staff members will insist, in all high school than membership on the yearbook staff. Fun all year long, plus the satisfaction of the completed book at year's end—there's nothing like it.

Barbara Slaton, lower right, first semester editor of the Arrow, was the pep of the whole affair.

Biggest change for the Redskin Arrow staff was the switch from the small platen press of the CHHS printshop to offset printing. Still it was just one Arrow after another — getting out the paper is a never-ending chore — but staff members love it.

Mary Harreld, left, second semester editor of the Redskin Arrow, won the admiration of the entire staff by her devotion to the job.

Honor to those who earn it

Awards for outstanding achievements in various fields of scholarship and service are presented each year to those seniors who have earned such recognition. The highest honors accorded for scholarship are the Letzeiser medals, gold, silver and bronze presented to the three top ranking girls and the three top ranking boys. The top gold medalist is given the Honor Society Ring, the most coveted of all honors. This year, for the first time, ties made it necessary to award three gold and two bronze Letzeiser medals to girls.

Students who were honored in the Awards Presentation program which was held May 8, at 8:00 p.m. were, left to right, top row, Collene Reed, gold Letzeiser for girls, national honor society ring, Phi Beta Kappa award; Barbara Minter, gold Letzeiser for girls; Louis Barnard, gold Letzeiser for boys, math award; Peggy Stevens, silver Letzeiser for girls, Cooper award for girls; Roger Wright, silver Letzeiser for boys, E. K. Gaylord Philanthropic award, American Legion award for boys; Cuma Burden, bronze Letzeiser for girls; Marjorie Johnson, bronze Letzeiser for girls, English award; John Duncan, Bronze Letzeiser for boys, Banning scholarship, Delta Kappa Gamma award; Wilma Riggan, art award; Beverly Crew, commercial award for accounting, Sears Roebuck award; Georganna Edmiaston, journalism award for year book, Steve Pennington award; Mary Harreld, journalism award for newspaper; Catherine Jackson, homemaking foods award; Lura Miller, homemaking clothing award, D. A. R. homemaker award; Bill Creighton, science award; Donna Bryant, Spanish award, A. A. U. W. scholarship, Civitan award; Carroll Gregg, Merry Masquer speech award for boys; Wren Hammett, American Legion award for girls; Jon Evald Chambless, Chamber of Commerce award for girls, Sigma Alpha Iota music award; Oscar Shuler, Chamber of Commerce award for boys; Neil Molsbee, Bausch Lomb science award; Jean Malone, Cooper award for boys, Banning scholarship; Barbara Oliver, D. A. R. Citizenship award; Phyllis Bishop, Mu Phi Epsilon music award; Bobby Hamm, D. A. R. history award; Norma Gill, best athlete award for girls; J. W. Mashburn, best athlete award for boys.

Other award winners included Peggy Boyd, gold Letzeiser for girls; Norma Foreman, commercial award for secretarial achievement; Jo Ann Ellison, homemaking service award; Dean Crawford, architectural drawing award; Barbara Schomp, speech award for girls; Peggy McAulif, Merry Masquer service award for girls; O. V. Dement, Merry Masquer service award for boys; Thomas Wood, senior debate award; Johnnie Soergel, special award.

Everybody loves the mailman and teachers find the mail boxes a wonderful place for daily exchange of pleasantries. Sometimes the boxes hold serious matter as evidenced by the serious expression with which Mrs. Mabel Kincade scans the latest bulletin. Not yet so impressed are Mr. Ray Vaughn, left, and his fellow fun-makers, John Miskovsky and O. R. Williamson. Just wait a minute and see.

After three full years

Peggy Stevens and Roger Wright, below, were chosen by the 1951 senior class to rule as Queen and King over the Senior Day festivities.

By work and play

Now that our three years at Capitol Hill High School are completed, the graduating seniors of the class of 1951 look back to days well and happily spent and achievements worthy.

We entered senior high school with the typical enthusiasm of sophomores;

Girl friend Eva Hocutt debates with boy friend Ray Thompson the end-results to be desired by a senior. According to Eva it's what you learned; but Ray insists it's how much fun you've had.

It takes the work of many individuals and many committees to pilot a large senior class through the activities of the last year of high school.

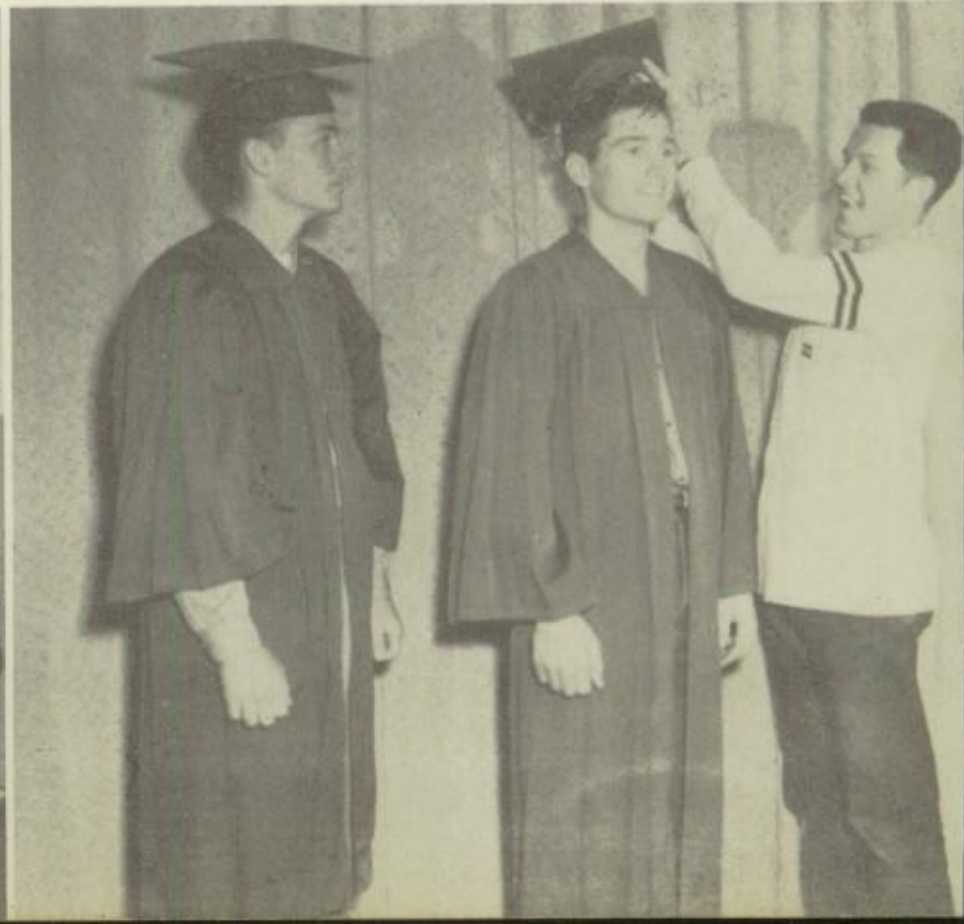

To the best of our ability

As Juniors we rode high

In 1952 will graduate a class with a wealth of promise. As sophomores, they made names for themselves with a high-stepping all-sophomore twirling corps and an outstanding group of young actors. Bob Hooker headed this class as president, backed up by Patsy Hines (vice-president) and Pat Eubanks (secretary).

This year, still led by Bob Hooker, the class elected Gail Bailey for vice-president and chose Bettye Selman to act as secretary. The junior class play, "Heaven Can Wait," a smash hit of which there was a request matinee performance, starred versatile Frank Moore, who later became the first all-school president to be elected under the new election system which is based on the pattern which our state uses. Never before did people arrive at 2:30 a.m. to post signs for a campaign that also resulted in the election of Terry Spradley to the post of vice-president, Peggy Zumwalt to the office of secretary, and which named Jimmy Cruzan and Pat Eubanks as yell leaders.

The junior-senior prom, always a memorable affair, was held at Blossom Heath and was one of the loveliest proms held in the history of CHHS.

The baby class at CHHS chose Dean Tesney to lead them through their first year of high school; Norma Kaye Zink, as their vice-president and Glenda Doye for secretary. Pledging was our part of the fun as sophs invaded the school affairs — they were the ones who cheered hardest for the teams, campaigned loudest for offices and made a great name for themselves as leaders and go-getters.

This class of 1953 will go places, having already gained recognition. Outstanding for their dancing were Beverly Jines and Pat Kimmel. Arda Penny was the only sophomore attendant for the football queen coronation; Larie Heldenbrand was Chieftain Capers queen. Sophomore Bobby East was chosen Rainbow Beau. Bobby Burr, H. C. Owenby, Jimmy Davis, Buzzy Cleveland and Donald Raper were outstanding in the field of sports.
